

LET ME FLY

I have wings
But I cannot fly
I am trapped in this cage
As the days go by

One day I'll be here again
Starting over new
Going to come back here once more
And live like I have always wanted too

Moving from place to place
Year after year
Never stopping or slowing my pace
As my nightmares disappear

To dance across the moonlit sky
It has always been my dream
But first I must learn how to fly
And falling is my fear

Falling fast or falling hard
Whichever may appear
The wind brushing past my mind is all that I can hear

So goodbye cage that holds me fast
This day I will escape
I do not expect this freedom too last
But at least just for today...
